

GERMANS TAKE ISSUE WITH BRIAND

SAYS COUNTRY IS NOT IN POSITION TO ENGAGE IN WAR

Reichswehr is Composed Mainly of Youths Between Ages of 19 and 21 Years Recruited Since War—Military is Designated and Supervised by Entente Control Commission

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Nov. 22.—In a statement to The Associated Press today the German government officially takes issue with the charges of Premier Briand of France in his address before the Washington conference yesterday that the German police forces and the reichswehr constituted a nucleus for a future German army.

It declares M. Briand's assertion that the reichswehr is composed exclusively of officers and non-commissioned officers of the old army is incorrect and that on the contrary the bulk of the reichswehr is made up of youths between the ages of 19 to 21 recruited since the war.

"The reichswehr is wholly unaffiliated with the Schulzpolizei which took the place of the security police when the entente ordered the latter's dissolution.

REVOLUTIONISTS UNDER ARREST AT NOGALES SONORA

Planned to Secure Recruits and Capture the City

(By The Associated Press)
NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 22.—Three alleged leaders of a revolutionary movement in Mexico were arrested in Nogales, Sonora, across the international boundary from here late this afternoon. Joaquin Ferrazas, Mexican consul in this city, who uncovered the alleged plot and caused the arrest of three men, said that he believed the proposed revolution was connected with recent disturbances in lower California.

The three arrested here today were S. Amaviza, who was a colonel in Sonora, while Governor Maytorena was chief executive of that state; a civil engineer named Vasquez and a third man whose name was withheld by the authorities. Amaviza participated in the revolt led by Governor Maytorena against former President Carranza in 1914. Maytorena later fled from Mexico and now is reported to be living in Los Angeles.

The revolutionary leaders, according to the officials, planned to secure a large number of followers in Nogales, Sonora, capture the city and then spread revolt to other parts of the country.

According to officials of the Mexican city, adherents of the proposed revolution, had attempted to smuggle ammunition into Mexico from the United States. The revolutionists also are declared by officials in Nogales, Sonora, to have held several meetings here.

United States officials here tonight said they believed the arrests today had made it certain that there would be no trouble in this vicinity.

FORMER RESIDENT IS UNDER ARREST

(By The Associated Press)
Peoria, Ill., Nov. 22.—Frances Welshman, alias Frances Montgomery, will be brought to Peoria tomorrow or Thursday from Joliet to answer charges of passing a number of worthless checks here. She is said by authorities to have passed many bogus checks on merchants thruout Illinois. She was arrested today in Joliet.

Mrs. Welshman is a former resident of Jacksonville and at various times was employed as a clerk in local establishments. She left Jacksonville several months ago to reside in Peoria.

HISTORY CLASS
The history class will meet tomorrow with Mrs. J. W. Madison on West State street.

WILL DEMAND AN ACCOUNTING OF FOUR TREASURERS

Suits May Be Filed Next Monday Brundage Says

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.—Suits to demand an accounting from four former state treasurers will not be filed before next Saturday, Attorney General Brundage said tonight following a conference here with his associates.

After long preparation the suits when filed will demand the last four former treasurers—Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, Governor Len Small and State Auditor Andrew Russell, Republicans and William Ryan, Democrat, make an accounting for their terms as head of the state treasury. The terms cover the eight years preceding the term of Edward E. Miller, the present treasurer, which began last January.

Attorney General Brundage arrived in the capital this afternoon and immediately conferred with assistants who have been preparing the suits.

State Treasurer Miller, chief witness for the prosecution in the pending criminal cases against Governor Small, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Vernon Curtis, banking associate of Governor Small is expected to be the principal witness in the coming civil suits.

LOCAL MEN FORM NEW ORGANIZATION

L. E. Deppe, Walter Houston and William McNamara Succeed Firm of Rexroat and Deppe—Will Retain Same Location

The well known firm of Rexroat and Deppe has been reorganized and is now made up of L. E. Deppe, Walter Houston and William McNamara. The new firm will retain the same location on West North street, just east of the city hall, and will handle the international line, Apperson cars and Nash automobiles.

The active business matters will be in the hands of Mr. Houston, who will handle the truck end of the business, and Mr. Deppe, who will continue his automobile and accessories part of the concern. Mr. McNamara will continue with his present business at the Brook Mills, but will be interested in the firm as one of the company.

Mr. Houston was formerly connected with the Blackburn House Elevator company. All three men in the firm are highly respected and well liked thruout this community.

CARNIVAL NIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Annual Event Will Be Given This Evening—Preparations Have Been in Progress for Several Weeks.

Thanksgiving time means carnival time at the high school, and this year's, to be given tonight, promises to well come up to past performances.

Class stunts in the auditorium will open the evening's fun at 7:30 o'clock. First the freshmen, next the sophomores, and then the juniors, will put on original stunts, which have been worked up with much mystery. The seniors will give a minstrel show.

Miss Sophronia Kent, the senior adviser, has been assisting with the rehearsals for this event which will be given by the pick of the clash singers and comedians.

Amusing, intriguing, and freakish side-shows, will then be opened to the public. All the classes have helped plan them. Bonbons, containing sandwiches and ice cream will provide refreshments for the crowd. The proceeds from this annual carnival are always turned over to the athletic association.

THOMPSON FAVORS AMATEUR ATHLETICS

Carmi, Ill., Nov. 22.—Carl, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mayberry, accidentally was shot to death last night while taking part in a charivari in honor of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohlheber. Several persons in the party fired pistols and rifles and afterwards Mayberry's body was found.

ASK REMOVAL OF E. MONT REILLY IN PORTO RICO

Want President to Remove Him from Office of Governor

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Senator Felix Cordova-Davila, resident commissioner from Porto Rico was instructed today from San Juan to request President Harding to remove Governor E. Mont Reilly, immediately from that office. The telegram comprising a document of 1,000 words set forth in detail the specific charges which were to be referred with the request. It was signed by 39 of the 58 members of the Porto Rican assembly.

Senator Davila announced tonight that he would see President Harding and Secretary Weeks—the latter as the immediate superior of Governor Reilly, at the earliest opportunity.

Declaring that Governor Reilly had come to the island "with deep-rooted prejudices," the telegram asserted that his actions since then had indicated he lacked "judiciousness and discretion," necessary for the position he now holds. On the pretext that the president of the senate and members of the majority party were enemies of the United States, it continued he embarked "on a policy of aggression against Porto Ricans not personally addicted to him."

Among specific charges against Governor Reilly enumerated in the message to Senator Davila were the following:

He publicly declared himself leader of the insular Republican party and the friend of the Socialist party.

He removed judicial officers without stating the cause and threatened removal of others, being obliged to "confess the injustice in both cases."

Annulled the moral power of judges by announcing they would be removed if a decision was rendered considered by the governor unjust.

"The outrageous calumny which Reilly and the sycophants traveling with him issued on landing in New York," said Senator Davila, "is of a piece with the daily drive he has been issuing and which has kept the island in a turmoil ever since he landed on our shores. Each day since he has been down there an erstwhile peaceful people have been indicted on some silly charge. They have endured it as long as possible and affairs have now reached a point where for the peace of the island Reilly must come home."

MISS HIGLER PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Well Known Resident Dies After Long Illness—Funeral Arrangements Have Not Been Made.

Miss Elizabeth Higler died at the family home, 440 South Clay avenue, at 1:45 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning. She had been in a failing health for some time and death was not unexpected.

Decedent had been a resident of this city practically all her life. For many years she was a teacher in the Franklin school and was held in high regard by her associates.

A more extended notice and the time of the funeral will be given in a later issue.

PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND SERVICES

Washington, Nov. 22.—President Harding will attend Thanksgiving services at Calvary Baptist church, his regular place of worship. The pastor, Rev. Dr. W. S. Abernethy, and the Washington committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, have invited delegates to the armament conference, and officials of the government to attend the services.

EDWARDS MAN VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 22.—Leander Smith, 62 years old of Edwards Smith, died at a local hospital tonight, death being caused from what is thought by authorities to have been foul play.

Smith was found in the street and taken to the hospital where an examination showed he had six broken ribs. The examining physician said the injuries appeared to have been caused by a fight or struggle.

KANSAS OFFICERS KILL GUNMAN IN DESPERATE FIGHT

Eddie Adams Killed After Wounding Two Officers

(By The Associated Press)
WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 22.—Eddie Adams, who was regarded by authorities as the southwest's most desperate gunman and bandit since Henry Starr, Oklahoma outlaw, was killed in a Kansas a year ago, was shot and killed in a pistol fight here late today.

The fight followed search of an hour for two men whom the police were informed were connected with shooting affrays here and near Winfield, Kansas, yesterday in which Robert Fitzpatrick, a motorcycle patrolman was shot and instantly killed and George Oldham, a Cowley county farmer was shot and probably fatally wounded and Ray Casner another motorcycle patrolman was wounded in the hip.

Adams is reported to have been signing for a rented motor car when Charles Hoffman, Ed Bowman and D. C. Stuckey, the detectives hunting him, entered the garage. Hoffman after informing Adams he was wanted, rushed at him and attempted to capture him alive. Adams, while looking in Hoffman's arms, released his gun and shot Hoffman in the abdomen. He then fired two shots at Bowman, both striking him in the left side. Bowman then fired point blank at Adams, the bullet entering his head above the right eye. Almost at the same moment Stuckey fired at Adams killing him outright.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS GAVE ENTERTAINMENT

Mock Wedding Was Feature of Meeting Tuesday Evening—Refreshments and Social Time Follow

Following the regular meeting of Star camp No. 171, Royal Neighbors of America, Tuesday evening, the members enjoyed the presentation of a mock wedding which created a great deal of merriment.

The ceremony was given under the auspices of a joint committee from Star camp and Athens camp, and was under the direction of the two district deputies, Mesdames Potts and Morris, who are conducting a membership campaign here.

During the business session, a large number of applications, which have been secured for the two camps, were ballotted on. There was also a drawing for a mattress and Mrs. Charles Goodsey held the lucky number.

Following the business session and mock wedding, a social time was enjoyed and sandwiches and coffee were served.

MURRAYVILLE MAN OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Uriah Rimbey Passed 92d Milestone on Life's Journey Yesterday—Born in Maryland.

Murrayville, Nov. 22.—The ninety-second birthday of Uriah Rimbey of Murrayville was celebrated Tuesday noon by one of the usual family dinner parties. Mrs. John Ward of Murrayville was hostess for the dinner in honor of this anniversary.

Mr. Rimbey, who has lived in Murrayville thirty-one years, and in this community since boyhood, is very well known around here. He was born November 22, 1829, in Maryland and came with his family as pioneers to Illinois. A long life of successful farming ended several years ago, when he went to live at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Ward. His large family of children are scattered to the western coast so not all of them were there for the birthday celebration.

A delicious duck dinner was served on a flower trimmed table to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rimbey, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Millon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riggs, Miss Eva Osborne, all children or grandchildren of the guest of honor, and Mrs. Martha Rousey and Mr. Lettze, of Murrayville.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22.—Ashort address to the regiment of 2,400 midshipmen marked the visit of Marshal Ferdinand Foch to the naval academy here this afternoon. He was given a great ovation.

FINAL VOTE ON TAX REVISION MEASURE TODAY

Temporary Makeshift is Way Penrose Describes Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A final vote on the tax revision bill will be taken by the senate at not later than 7 p. m. tomorrow under an unanimous consent agreement entered into today after the measure had been under debate for several hours.

Immediately upon its passage the bill will be sent to the president. The only important section of the bill which will be put into force immediately upon its becoming law, however, is that relating to the income tax, the other tax changes going into effect on next January 1.

The present surtax rates will be continued for this calendar year, the reductions agreed upon by the house and senate going into effect in the next calendar year and being reflected in the actual payments to be made by the taxpayers in 1923.

In leaving the conference report before the senate today, Chairman Penrose of the senate managers, in a formal statement, described the bill as a temporary makeshift.

"The bill," Senator Penrose said, "does not place the tax system on a stable of scientific basis. But it is better than the law which it will supersede because of the reduction of the tax burden and the technical or administrative improvements which it affects. As has been said it is a temporary measure. But nothing better than a temporary makeshift will be possible until the people of this country give to the question of federal taxation an amount and kind of study which it has not yet received; until—in particular—the people become convinced of the sincerity and truth of the contention that the proposal to reduce excessive tax rates is not designed to relieve the rich and the profiteer, but to avert the breakdown of the income tax, unshakable business and increase the tax revenue.

Debate on the measure was opened by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democratic manager on the part of the senate who reviewed some details, made in conference.

He declared that when the conferees got thru with the bill even some of the most prominent Republican managers could not conceal their disgust, with the measure.

The North Carolina senator said that three or four of the compromise amendments brought forward by the senate agricultural block were "slaughtered" in conference, but that some of them were retained, notably the increased surtax rate, the capital stock provision and the repeal of the $2,000 exemption for corporations except in the case of those having net incomes of $25,000 or less. The surtax rate would have been cut, he asserted, if it had not been for the wise action of the house in refusing to trust their conferees.

Under the bill as it now stands, the senator continued, the corporations will pay about one half what they pay under the present law and less than one half of the amount that individual taxpayers will be called upon to pay when the new bill becomes a law.

RETURN TO OKLAHOMA

ECONOMIC CONDITION OF CHINA FORMED THE TEXT OF DISCUSSIONS

Negotiations Moved More Slowly at Tuesday's Session—Chinese Delegates Would Establish Tariff Autonomy—Progress in Far East Problems is Most Encouraging

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The negotiations relating to both the far east and armament limitation moved more slowly today as the attention of the arms delegates passed from general policies to specific details.

China's economic embarrassments formed the text of the Far Eastern discussions which resulted in the appointment of a sub-committee of representatives of nine nations to study the whole subject of administrative autonomy for the Chinese republic with particular reference to tariff and tax restrictions.

The land armament problem also was considered at various informal conferences during the day and a meeting of the armament committee of the whole was called for tomorrow with the expectation that Premier Briand of France would say a last word as to his country's attitude on reduction of armies before his departure for France.

On the side of naval armament informal exchanges continued between individual delegates and naval experts with an air of growing confidence that details of the American plan would eventually bring all the powers into agreement. Land, naval and far eastern questions were talked over by Secretary Hughes today with the American advisory committee of 21, and after he had presented a report on the present status of the negotiations a number of sub-committees were instructed to prepare reports for the American delegates on various subjects of detail. The submarine issue raised by Great Britain will be one of the questions to be thus investigated and another, whose inclusion was regarded as forecasting an entirely new angle of the negotiations will be the use and legitimacy of new weapons of warfare. Thus far that subject has not been mentioned in the conference proper.

The sub-committee on Chinese administrative autonomy authorized today by the full body of delegates of the nine nations, sitting as a committee of the whole on the far east, is expected to find its chief task in an attempted rearrangement of the customs regulations which for many years have kept China from imposing a duty of more than five per cent on her imports.

In addition there is expected to be an inquiry into the various international agreements by which certain specified items of the republic's tax returns must be turned over immediately for payment of foreign obligations.

All of these restrictions, the Chinese declare, have resulted in such a curtailment of national revenues as to make economic progress impossible.

The Chinese delegates have emphasized the tariff autonomy principle as one of the most important to establish.

The sub-committee, whose membership is yet to be announced, was authorized at the suggestion of Senator Underwood of the American delegation and he generally is expected to become the American member of the new body.

Altho the delegates have not yet taken up some of the most troublesome questions involved in the near eastern situation the progress made thus far was taken in official circles tonight as entirely encouraging.

The probable procedure of the conference with reference to Chinese and other Far Eastern and Pacific questions was forecast today in authoritative quarters. The Root resolution adopted yesterday by the far eastern committee of the whole together with any adopted in the future it was said, would be brought before a plenary session on the open conference for final discussion and adoption. Other resolutions on Pacific and far eastern questions are said to be in prospect.

FOUR RAILROAD OFFICIALS MEET DEATH IN WRECK

Accident Caused by Breaking of Axle on Car

(By The Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 22.—W. H. Oliver of Los Angeles, engineer of the grand division of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, assistant to the chief engineer of the coast lines of the road, and four division officers of that railway were killed when a motor inspection car overturned three miles north of Wickenburg, Ariz., forty miles northwest of here.

The others who met death are: William Mathie, division superintendent, Winslow, Ariz.; H. C. Story, assistant superintendent, Prescott, Ariz.; William Bowman, roadmaster for the Prescott-Phoenix district; J. A. Jaeger, division engineer; J. E. McNeil, general inspector of track and roadway, who was one of the passengers on an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway inspection car, when it turned over near Wickenburg, Ariz., today, said that the accident occurred when an axle on the front truck of the car broke.

At the time the axle broke, Mr. McNeil said, the car was about three miles north of Wickenburg and was traveling about 30 miles an hour. When the axle broke, he said the car swerved to the right and plunged down an eight foot embankment turning over at least once. Mr. McNeil said he was rendered unconscious in the accident and did not recover consciousness until he was in a bunk car in which the dead and injured were brought to Phoenix. Mr. McNeil's shoulder was severely bruised and he suffered other injuries.

The inspection car, according to Mr. McNeil was filled with passengers when the accident happened but he was unable to tell just how many were on it.

Local railroad men said the car would carry about fourteen passengers, however.

A Jacksonville man, who owns land in a northern state, received a report yesterday showing that the market price for oats there is now 16 cents a bushel. This man happens to have the crop of two years on hand and so he is in no better frame of mind just now than are some of his Illinois friends.

There is one consoling fact for the underweight children in the public schools, there are so many of them. Statistics show too that in other Illinois cities the percentage of underweights is just about the same as it is in Jacksonville. There is no denying however that if under weight proves lack of proper nourishment that the problem demands both prompt and careful attention.

The water receipts of Jacksonville have recently been growing at the rate of about $1,000 a month which goes to show that the demand has increased rapidly.

since the pure supply became available. Citizens who studied the subject in advance can now say, "I told you so." Additional machinery is needed so that a greater daily supply can be pumped. The money so expended will be an investment of beneficial kind.

TRADE EXTENSION COMMITTEE DID FINE JOB.

As mentioned elsewhere, Tuesday the day of dollar sales, was classed as the biggest retail day that many of the stores of Jacksonville have ever experienced, not even eliminating the busiest pre-Christmas period. The public had the advantage of many wonderful bargains and men and women were not slow in showing their appreciation of those offerings.

It was particularly gratifying to merchants to find their customers coming from such a wide area, as the people from territory outside of Morgan county were very numerous.

The success of this great must be attributed very largely to the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce which includes Lloyd Reld, chairman; Arthur R. Taylor, Louis Horen, Fletcher Hopper, Stanley Wright, William Floeth, Jr., Sherman Dorand and Harold Welch, secretary Chamber of Commerce.

ROAD OBJECT LESSONS IN ILLINOIS.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat finds much in the road building operations in Illinois to commend. Special emphasis is laid upon the lowered cost of construction which has become a fact since Gov. Small made a stand for lower costs. The Globe says: "Illinois was one of the very first of the Western States to adopt a comprehensive plan of highway improvement. Its bold project of borrowing $50,000,000, secured on auto license fees, for exclusive expenditure on its roads and the popular approval of the project in a decisive vote were almost sensational in their impress, and furnished the model on which a large number of states, with minor modifications, have since shaped their highway policies. On a program calling for a like expenditure Illinois is

FARM ADVISOR HOME FROM INSPECTION TRIP

Visited Experimental Field Near Virden—Farmers Here Safe From Hessian Fly.

County Farm Agent George H. Kendall has returned to Jacksonville after a trip to the state experimental field near Virden, to inspect the experiments being conducted to reduce the ravages of the Hessian fly. He reports the happy news that most of the farmers of this county have seeded safe.

At the experiment field, two plots of wheat were seeded Sept. 1, and are now infested with the fly. Four other plots were seeded about the middle of October and are practically free from the pest. The Farm Bureau here has advocated this time for seeding for several years and the majority of the farmers have followed the advice, so the Hessian fly will do little damage in the county this year.

Mr. Kendall was accompanied on his trip by State Entomologist Harwood who has made Jacksonville his headquarters during the investigations he is conducting for the state.

Illinois has so far spent $32,981,461 on its roads, but of this sum the federal government supplied $9,182,506, and it is accordingly, not yet half thru on its $60,000,000 program. The cost of the overhead—of administration, engineering and supervision—is 4.35 per cent of the whole. Can Missouri do as well?

FUNERALS

HI Y CLUB MET AT NORTHMINSTER

The Hi Y club had a regular meeting last evening at Northminster church. The meeting was scheduled for Brooklyn church, but due to the repairs being made on that building, it was found impossible to have the meeting there. The result was some confusion as to where the meeting would be, and fewer members were present last evening than usual. There were only forty-four present.

Rev. W. E. Spoons prepared a chili supper for the boys, but the crowd fell short of the expectations, so a special collection had to be taken to make up a deficit in the receipts. The boys responded generously.

After the regular meeting of the Hi Y, there was to be a meeting of the delegates to the Older Boys Conference. It was impossible for several of them to be present at that time so another meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock this evening, at the Y. M. C. A. office. Secretary Findley urged all delegates to be present as there are many important matters to be discussed.

AUTUMN THOUGHTS

Away, where the curving highways bend, under an autumn sky
And timbered slopes rich colors blend to gladden the faded eye.
Down the glens and over the hills, in the bracing air so pure,
Where care is banished and Nature thrills, we follow the highway's lure.

Over the beds of the sluggish streams, skirting the meadows brown,
Speeding along where the church spire gleams in hamlet, village and town;
On, where the gorgeous woods are stretched in Nature's wondrous plan,—
A picture fairer than e'er was sketched by the hand of mortal man.

And thoughts, as we gaze on the glory-maze of yellow and red and gold,
Rebellious rise, that a few brief days should change it to lifeless mold,
The glowing tints of the forests fair, must fade, we know, ere long,
And winds of winter will strip them bare and silence the wild bird's song.

But deep in the heart of each sturdy tree, the sap of life shall cling,
To blossom forth more broad and free at the welcome voice of Spring;
To bud and flourish and rear its crest,—spreading in leafy bowers
Over the timid song bird's nest; Shading the woodland flowers.

So shall it be on the parting day; When the spirit shall take its flight,
Released and free from its husk of clay,—out through the fog of night,—
Up to a far-off, unknown land, over the star-lit seas,—
Led by the touch of the Unseen Hand that shelters the forest trees!

HERE IS GOOD NEWS FOR KRAUT LOVERS

Scientists Save Cabbage From Blight—You Can Now Get Your Barrel Without Trouble.

RACINE, Wis.—(By A. P.)—Those persons who like to have just a few barrels of sauer kraut in the house in case of sickness or to whom corn beef and cabbage is a necessity and cabbage salad is a luxury owe an inestimable debt to Dr. R. L. Jones, plant pathologist of the University of Wisconsin and to the persistence of a group of Wisconsin cabbage growers along the west shores of Lake Michigan.

In the face of a blight which invariably followed continuous planting of cabbage and which practically threatened the extermination of the commercial growth of the plant, experiments conducted by Dr. Jones have saved the industry. The story is told by a writer in The Wisconsin Agriculturist.

It is a story of a ten years fight by scientific men using the weapon of selection and elimination against a disease known as Cabbage Yellow and which science finally has won. Today there are miles of cabbage fields in the truck section of Wisconsin and Illinois where a few years ago scarcely a trace of a crop would reward the best efforts of farmers.

Cabbage grows almost everywhere in the United States but it was an unsatisfactory crop because after a few years of production, land would invariably become infected with Yellow and henceforth for all time would refuse to grow cabbage.

The principle upon which Dr. Jones operated was this. A field infected with the Yellow would produce maybe a dozen, maybe not more than one or two heads per acre. For some reasons these heads would have a natural immunity to yellow. The theory was that the progeny of these individual heads would continue to develop the immunity to a larger degree and this has worked out in fact.

In 1910 when the Wisconsin cabbage growers were disheartened and about to abandon the industry, Dr. Jones selected a single head from a ten acre field owned by W. J. Hansche of Kenosha county. Cabbage is a biennial and it took two years for the seed to develop, but the ultimate seeds from this single head also proved to have immunity to the Yellow.

They were planted and carefully conserved and studied and from this single head was developed the Wisconsin Hollander cabbage, a strain that grows luxuriantly in the worst yellows and diseased land.

A. J. Piper, Broesch Brothers and a few other lake shore truck growers were also conducting similar experiments and establishing the principle that by selection and elimination immunity could be developed.

Up to this year, almost no seed of the disease resistant strain was sent out of the state, although cabbage growers everywhere had watched the experiments clamored for it. There was not enough seed yet to supply Wisconsin nor in fact any more than for use for further growth of seed cabbage.

This year the seed is being distributed by the College of Agriculture of the University to other experiment stations and colleges where it will be used by them in overcoming their Yellow infected cabbage land.

SACCHARINE USED INSTEAD OF SUGAR

MOSCOW—(By the A. P.)—Saccharine is the article most generally trafficked in here. As sugar sells on the markets for the equivalent of nearly $1 a pound, few persons can afford it. Saccharine is the universal sweetener. It is the pet article for smugglers.

Customs examiners are not able to check the illicit trade because of the ease with which millions and billions of rubles' worth of the substitute can be concealed in luggage and on the person of smugglers. It comes across the Polish, Lithuanian, Lettish, Estonian and Finnish boundaries in great quantities. Rumanians also run it across the Bessarabian border.

On every street corner in Russian cities there are saccharine dealers soliciting buyers. Food shops and market stalls offer it everywhere. Bootblacks sell it on street corners. Even cabdrivers deal in it. It is usually offered in capsules contained in small glass tubes which may be carried conveniently in a vest pocket.

It is not uncommon to encounter cultivated women and former army officers among the saccharine dealers. The tattered fragments of a decent wardrobe and cultivated speech indicate their past, when their feet were not shod in birchbark sandals.

GRADE CROSSING CLAIMS FIVE VICTIMS

Brighton, Colo., Nov. 22.—Five persons were killed, one was fatally injured and two others seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by Union Pacific passenger train No. 21, westbound, at a crossing near here this afternoon.

According to word received here the dead are:
Jose St. Clair, his wife and three children.

The fatally injured is a boy. Two girls were seriously injured.

SEVEN WOMEN ARE ACCEPTED AS JURORS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 22.—Seven women and one man were passed temporarily today as jurors in the trial of Arthur C. Burch indicted jointly with Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy. Another woman was under examination as a prospective juror when court adjourned for the day and two other women and one man in the box awaiting questioning.

PROHIBIT OPEN AIR DEMONSTRATIONS

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The police issued a prohibition against all processions or other open air demonstrations until further notice because of the recent food riots.

BIG FIRE AT FREMONT, NEB.

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 22.—Fire originating in the Wroe department store early today was not brought under control until late this afternoon. The Wroe stock of goods, valued at $50,000 was totally destroyed and the building, a three-story brick, badly damaged. Offices above the store room were burned out and damage done to stocks of merchandise nearby. The total loss is placed in excess of $100,000. Two firemen were severely, but not fatally, injured.

GIN HEALTH WORK IN COOK COUNTY SCHOOLS

gram There Is Nearly a Year Behind that of Morgan County Tribune Tells the Story

Morgan county is ahead of Cook county by nine months in having a public health nurse. The county nurse here, Miss Jacobina Jecke is supported by the Morgan county chapter of the American Red Cross and makes inspections in the rural schools. The following clipping was taken from the Chicago Sunday Tribune and tells how the public health work has just been inaugurated in the schools of Cook county.

"Some day when you're visiting one of Cook county's country schools, you'll observe a motor car draw up at the door and a young woman carrying a suitcase, alighting therefrom.

"Her name is Miss Catherine McClaughry and she lives in Palos park. She is official weight tester of the Cook county public schools. She is the first person to hold that position.

"Miss McClaughry's work began last week. Yesterday she weighed and measured 147 students. Before her work is completed every boy and girl in the county's rural schools will have stood upon a pair of scales.

Many Children Undernourished

"You see," explained E. J. Tobin, county superintendent, "we decided that despite the fact that the county is full of cows and every housewife's pantry is full of butter, a great number of the country school children are undernourished.

"Undernourished children are dull scholars. That we might eliminate this defect we are going to weigh every student.

"If the child is under weight—the correct weight is based upon age and height—the parent is notified and a change of diet recommended. Our tests thus far show there are just as many under-weight country as city children."

CRIMINAL DOCKET SET FOR COMING WEEK

Cases of Ellsworth Pires and Samuel Zachary on Court Calendar for Wednesday and Thursday

Criminal cases are to be called for trial at the coming week of the Morgan county circuit court. The docket was set yesterday and Judge Smith conferred with State's Attorney Robinson and various attorneys, who will represent the defendants in the cases. Wednesday the case of Charles Ellsworth Pires, indicted for the murder of James Gaddis, will be called. The day following, the case of S. T. Zachary, charged with the murder of Luther Crawford, is set for trial. Mr. Zachary, it is understood, has engaged as counsel, William N. Halgrove and John M. Butler.

The docket for the week is as follows:

Monday.

Probation hearing for Walter Pate. The people of Illinois vs. Oscar Gray, forgery.

The people of Illinois vs. Guy Alexander, assault with intent to kill and murder.

The people of Illinois vs. William Lyle Hart, forgery and uttering.

Tuesday.

The people of Illinois vs. Merrill Sublett, larceny.

The people of Illinois vs. Willie Gray, larceny.

The people of Illinois vs. John Hilles, forgery.

Wednesday.

The people of Illinois vs. Ben Cohen, alias Benjamin Cohen, assault and battery.

The people of Illinois vs. Charles Ellsworth Pires, murder.

Thursday.

The people of Illinois vs. Samuel T. Zachary, alias Sam Zachary, murder.

In the court Tuesday much of the time was taken in arguing the deposition in the Van Tuyle will case. This suit has been pending through several terms, the result of an effort to set aside the will of the late Marshall Van Tuyle.

In the divorce suit of Zella Wolke vs. William Wolke, the decree was entered and the cause was stricken.

A like order was entered in the divorce proceeding of John F. Duckwall, brought against Hazel M. Duckwall.

SEWER COMMITTEE PLANS EXPERT ADVICE

Will Seek to Secure Representative of Metcalf and Eddy to Look Over Local Situation—Board of Health Representatives Met With Committee Tuesday Night.

The sewer system of Jacksonville and the possible methods of improving it, proved a live subject for discussion at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday night. H. F. Ferguson, a representative of the state board of health, and P. J. White, superintendent of streets, met with the members of the sewer committee.

J. F. Clans, chairman of the committee, presided, and other members present were A. C. Metcalf, secretary; H. M. Capps, George C. Guthrie, W. L. Shibe and H. L. Caldwell. Other members of the committee unable to be present are J. H. Dial, Earl M. Spink, W. E. Thomson, F. J. Waddell and Felix E. Farrell.

Some matters relating to the general project were presented by Mr. Metcalf and the fullest discussion followed. The resulting action was the instruction given to the secretary to write to Metcalf & Eddy, of New York and Chicago, asking them to send an engineer here to look over the local situation.

Experienced Engineers.

Metcalf & Eddy are known as the foremost sanitary consultation engineers in the United States, and the firm has been identified with a great many successful sanitary projects. It is the hope that a representative of this firm can be secured to come to Jacksonville, check over the data prepared by the local engineers, inspect sewer conditions, and then give some advice as to the best procedure for solving the problem.

One question discussed was as to the advisability of organizing two sanitary districts, one for the third and fourth wards and the outlying territory, and another for the first and second wards, with outlying territory.

Mr. Ferguson pointed out the disadvantages of such an arrangement and expressed the opinion that one district would produce much more satisfactory results. It is the idea of the committee that following the coming of a thoroughly experienced consultant engineer that the project will take such definite form that it can be represented to the people for decision.

Long Period of Work.

It is realized that the rebuilding of the sewerage system must be the work of a long period of years because of the expense involved. The committee feels that it is quite possible that an experienced consulting engineer, after looking over the situation, would be able to suggest a procedure for undertaking one part of the program within immediate years and a further part at a later time.

The conference was one of the most satisfactory that the committee has had and the members greatly appreciated the presence of the representative of the state health board.

MORGAN COUNTY POULTRY ASSOCIATION

The dates for December 13 to 17, 1921, will bring together many of Morgan county's poultry breeders, and this year should bring out the best of many of our farmers' flocks, who claim to have standard fowls. The association also is offering premiums to any and all who are willing to demonstrate by exhibiting their superior layers, regardless of standard qualifications as to plumage. These will be judged by what is known as "the Hogan system," and will be passed on by the farm advisers and the poultry judge employed by the association. For premium lists, address Frank Ledford, secretary, Jacksonville, Ill. They will be mailed Nov. 25.

MANY CHILDREN UNDER NORMAL WEIGHT

Health Department Facts From City Schools Show Surprising Conditions of Under Nourishment.

The health department of the Jacksonville public schools, recently filed a report of their activities with the superintendent. Among the matters reported is a rating of children in the different grades as to their being under weight for age and height. The facts were so astonishing that the board of education, upon hearing this report, instructed the superintendent to give as much emphasis to correctional measures as might be possible.

Following are the schools and the per cent of their pupils who were ten per cent or more under weight during the later part of September when the weights were taken:

|              |                 |
|--------------|-----------------|
| Jefferson    | 40 per cent     |
| Lafayette    | 27 per cent     |
| Franklin     | 43 per cent     |
| Morton       | 20 per cent     |
| Washington   | 28 per cent     |
| Independence | 33 1-3 per cent |

David Prince 30.8 per cent.

The health report also presents the following facts:

"Everyone understands that children who are seriously under weight are handicapped both physically and mentally. It is probably true that they would be the first subject to an epidemic should children's diseases prevail during the year.

"The problem becomes a two-fold one. Primarily, it is a problem for the parents. Many times children do not have the proper kinds of food during the period of rapid growth. A careful study of foods is helpful in relieving the situation.

"There is an effort just now to conduct some experimental nutrition classes in certain schools, providing for a glass of milk at cost at mid-session to children under weight. This added nourishment has been found by experiments in many cities to add greatly to the possibility of children keeping up to normal. In order that parents may have some first-hand information concerning this matter of diet, I am presenting the following suggestions supplied by our health department:

"Nutrition experts tell us a child ten per cent under weight or 20 per cent over weight for his height and age is in danger.

"Take the child to your family physician for a thorough examination. He may be handicapped by bad teeth, diseased tonsils and adenoids, or there may be some physical condition you know nothing about. When you know your child is free to gain, see that he eats nourishing food and enough of it.

"Milk is the master carpenter and every child should have one pint a day. Under weight children should drink a quart of milk a day.

"Protein, which builds muscle and brings energy and vitality, is found in the thick curds of sour milk. Also found in meat, but the protein in milk is better for children.

"Milk contains lime or calcium, the bone builders, sugar and fat which supply warmth and energy, and through vitamins, which we know little about, except that they have the magic power of making small bodies grow and keeping adult bodies in good condition.

"Drink milk from a glass or take it in cocoa, creamed vegetables or pudding.

"Iron for strength is found in vegetables and fruit, also in meat and eggs.

"Fruit and green vegetables act as a laxative, which keeps the intestines and kidneys clean and active.

"For more energy, eat plenty of bread and cereals.

"When an epidemic of contagion comes, the under nourished child is the first victim. Give him a fighting chance."

The Washington school parent-teachers' association has started a morning recess period nutrition class. Children under weight may get a glass of milk at actual cost. Careful check will be kept of the outcomes of this effort and the information thus secured may aid in directing future activities.

Tho the season for picnics and gatherings at Nichols park has passed the superintendent, Mr. Hopper, and his men are by no means idle. The removal of the large shrubbery on the south side of the large pavilion and the planting of smaller growths was such a great addition to the attractiveness of the place it was decided to do the same for the north side, and it has been done greatly to the advantage of the outlook.

The bushes have not been destroyed but have been set out along the east driveway or exit and are a great ornament to that part of the park.

The toilets on the north side have been unsatisfactory for some time and have been replaced by two Joery type Kaustine waterless toilets.

JACKSONVILLE'S FIRST SEMI ANNUAL DOLLAR SALE IS BIG SUCCESS

Thousands of Shoppers Visited the City Tuesday—Many Came from Other Counties—Results Show What Co-Operation Will Do—People Pleased With Bargains Offered

Jacksonville's first Semi-Annual Dollar Day is now history. It was without doubt the greatest business day in the history of the city; the veteran business men testify to his fact. All day the roads leading to Jacksonville were filled with cars coming to the big sale, and each incoming train brought more supplies.

Even before the stores opened for business yesterday morning, crowds had collected before doors, in many instances the clerks having to gain entrance thru the back doors of their respective stores. Hundreds were counted in many stores a few moments after the doors were thrown open.

But after lunch time the real rush began. Stocks were swept clean and in many stores it resembled the passing of a hurricane. With difficulty was entrance made to business houses and progress was nearly impossible after entrance had been gained. Clerks were unable to leave for lunch and later when the opportunity did present itself they were only permitted 15 minutes.

Several merchants had not eaten their breakfast at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and on up until closing time, the rush continued.

The day was a grand success and even exceeded the fondest hopes of the committee in charge.

"It illustrates," said Harold Welch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, "just what can be accomplished when all the merchants co-operate in any undertaking. The credit is most largely due to the trade extension committee, which worked so wholeheartedly on the plan and handled all the campaign of advertising and publicity so necessary to putting a thing of this kind over."

An outstanding circumstance which prevailed throughout the day and was noticeable in all the stores was the good humor of the crowds. A merchant who has been in business many years expressed it thus:

"The people were pleased with the bargains we gave them, found with nothing, and were in the finest crowd of shoppers I have ever had. This in itself

LAST HOME GAME OF FOOTBALL SEASON

Will Be Played on Illinois Field Thanksgiving Day—Game Is to Start at 2:30 O'clock—Illinois Out for Revenge

The last football game of the season, to be played on the home field, will be staged tomorrow afternoon—Thanksgiving day—on Illinois field, at 2:30 o'clock. The Shurtteff college team from Alton, will furnish the opposition. If Illinois college had been scheduled to play Shurtteff last Saturday, instead of Millikin, perhaps the game would not have been cancelled. Immersions on the flooded football field would probably not have been dreaded by them as it seems to have been by the Millikin boys.

On account of its location, Shurtteff does not meet any of the teams which Illinois plays, and consequently it is impossible to get any comparison by means of comparative scores. Memories of last year's defeat at the hands of the Shurtteff team are all that are needed to prime the Illinois players for this contest. The Blue and White players want revenge for that trouncing, suffered a year ago.

The Illinois players feel that the 13 to 6 score, recorded against them a year ago, was not exactly a true-blue affair. Two games had been scheduled for the field on the same afternoon and the field was under control of the Alton high school, which was scheduled to play the second game against the St. Louis high school team. The Illinois team was not informed of the facts in the case and started the game expecting to play full time. With Shurtteff leading in the score, the time-keeper arbitrarily shortened the third quarter several minutes. This was unusual, but there was more to follow. There were six minutes yet to play in the fourth quarter, when the Alton high school authorities came on the field and ordered the game stopped and the field vacated for the second game. There was nothing to do but to obey orders and the game ended with about twelve minutes of playing time remaining.

This sad experience still rankles in the memories of the Illinois players who played against Shurtteff last season. For that reason they are determined to "make the fur fly" on Thursday afternoon.

CLUBS AND SOCIETY

Baptist Young People Entertained.
Four classes of young people from the First Baptist Sunday school were entertained at a chicken supper Tuesday night at the church by their teachers and officers. An evening of games and music followed the delightful supper. Miss Carrie Spies, Mrs. L. B. Turner, Professor Lacey and Alex Rabjohn are the teachers of the class which takes in boys and girls of high school and college age.

Grace Epworth League Had Unique Social.
Grace M. E. Epworth League members had a unique social Tuesday evening. All sorts of strange and bulky packages were donated by the guests and auctioned off by Harlan Williamson. The reason why the article was given up was told by each new owner. Other stunts including a mock wedding and games and contests filled the evening. Delicious refreshments were passed toward the end of the party.

Miss Lucille Straight and a committee of Misses Elizabeth Moore Marion World, Wilma Williamson, Leta and Irene Groves and J. L. Read, Ordain Fox, Dwight Freeman, Harold Cocking, Glen Ebrey and Wilbur Guild were in charge of the successful event.

Engagement of Miss Allcott Announced.
At a delightful afternoon bridge given Tuesday by Mrs. S. William Babb, of West State street, the announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Helen Allcott and Harlan Williamson, prominent young people of this city. Miss Dorothy Stange of Keokuk, Iowa, whose marriage to William Allcott of Des Moines, Iowa, will be in January, was the guest of honor.

A novel plan was carried out in the announcing of the secret. Hidden in rosebud favors given each guest when refreshments were served, were tiny initialed hearts. Besides the "H. A." and "H. W.", the month, January was written. To the accompaniment of the wedding march, miniature figures of a bride couple were brought in by Miss Wilma Williamson, and presented to Miss Allcott. The color plan was pink and white and was carried out even to the ice cream which was served in pink and white hearts.

Miss Allcott, who is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Allcott of West College avenue, is one of the most popular young women of this city. She has always been active in the social life of Jacksonville and has a wide circle of friends. Mr. Williamson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is now with his father in the firm of Williamson and Son, Undertakers. He also is well liked by a large number of persons. A large number of guests were present at the pretty affair yesterday.

Congregational Church Bazar.
The Ladies Aid society of Congregational church had a big bazar, market and oyster supper, in the Pilgrim Memorial Tuesday. Art work, fancy, plain aprons, party aprons, baby sweaters, booties, rag rugs and "white elephants" were offered on the tables of the bazar, which was in charge of Mrs. Harry M. Capps. Mrs. David P. Hueston, Mrs. M. H. Havenhill, Miss Lou Topping, Mrs. W. A. Bancroft, Mrs. L. S. Doane, Mrs. H. Charles Hall and Mrs. J. W. Bowen.

Delicious home cooked foods of many kinds were readily sold by the market committee, Mrs. D. B. Hutchinson, Mrs. F. J. Waddell, Mrs. John Knapp and Mrs. Richard Joy.

The oyster supper, which was served to a large crowd, was prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. T. P. Carter, Mrs. Jop, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Keefe.

Mrs. Clyde Cox Hostess to Orleans Club.
The Orleans Country club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Clyde Cox, of that neighborhood, Monday afternoon in their Thanksgiving meeting. Several outsiders were guests, two from Jacksonville, Mrs. Henry Strawn and Miss Violet Davis, and Mrs. Ed Collins of Prentice.

During the afternoon the following interesting program was given:

Instrumental selections—Miss Violet Davis.
Thanksgiving and Wild Game—Mrs. Chas. Strawn.
Thanksgiving Customs—Mrs. Hinrichsen.
Thanksgiving Song—Club members.
Victrola selections.

A delightful social hour followed the program, during which the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Miss Matilda Richardson, on Dec. 6th.

Woodson Club Is Planning Entertainment.
The Woodson Domestic Science club is planning an entertainment and needlework bazar in Woodson Christian church basement for the evening of December first to raise money for their $100 pledge to the county tuberculosis sanatorium. They made part of the sum a few weeks ago with a market and hope to finish with this bazar. A musical and literary program is being arranged by the program committee, Mrs. George McKean and Mrs. Lester Rawlings. Mrs. R. R. Jones is acting as general chairman. The needlework booths are in charge of

COMMUNITY BANQUET AT WAVERLY HIGH

Fathers and Sons Heard Discussion of Problems Related to Agriculture—Girls of Domestic Science Department Served.

The fathers and sons banquet given at the community high school at Waverly Tuesday night proved a successful event. The arrangements for the event had been made by J. T. Doris, principal of the school, and M. R. Malsbury, head of the department of agriculture of the school.

The excellent dinner was prepared and served by members of the domestic science department of the school. Afterwards came a program in which a number of speakers took part. George B. Kendall, county agent, had for his theme "In Quest of the Truth." Mr. Kendall made a plea for open mindedness, especially in relation to agriculture, and said that every man engaged in the business of agriculture should be willing to learn and apply new methods which come to his notice and which give evidence of worth and advantage. The speaker made his subject include various scientific problems.

C. C. Woods, another speaker, told of a seed plot which had been maintained in Sangamon county, and explained something of the facts which this plot developed as to the advantage of good seed and the disadvantage and expense attached to seed and plant diseases.

Principal Doris made a strong talk along educational lines dwelling particularly upon the advantages of manual training and special studies along the lines of agriculture and domestic science. He made plain that there is great need for study along these lines, and that splendid opportunities for development are offered.

Wilson Smith spoke briefly, voicing the sentiment of those present in referring to the interesting and successful event, and the pleasure which the members of the company had in being present.

THANKS EXPRESSED TO BUSINESS MEN
The Trade Extension committee of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the merchants of the city in making Jacksonville's First Annual Dollar Day the huge success it undoubtedly was. The committee wishes it were possible to personally thank every business man who joined in the movement that made Tuesday, Nov. 22, the greatest business day in the history of the city, and gave to thousands of patrons exceptional bargains, thus adding deserved prestige to Jacksonville as a worth while place at all times for people from far and near to come and trade, assured of high quality of merchandise, a wide selection and fair prices, and courteous treatment.

The hope is expressed that when another such event is due there will not be a single business man absent from "Roll Call," and that the next will be "Bigger and Better Than Ever" for the community at large.

LLOYD S. REID, Chairman.

The guests brought plenty of refreshments with them and everyone enjoyed a fine social even * *

Westminster Housekeeper Class Had Party
At the pleasant home of the Misses Maggie and Mary Tholen on W. Lafayette avenue, Tuesday night occurred the Thanksgiving party for the members of the Housekeeper's class of Westminster church.

Each member invited a guest and nearly sixty sat down at 6 o'clock to a fine turkey supper to which all certainly did full justice. Music and guesting contests filled the evening with merriment and Henry Kamm and Will Brady tied for honors as to who could make the most noise in a given length of time.

Beautiful decorations appropriate to the Thanksgiving season were used in great profusion in all the rooms.

Mrs. James Bentley and Mrs. George Gilbert were assistant hostesses and Mrs. Clarence Massey and Mrs. Tholen, assisted in entertaining.

Dobson.
Walter Dobson, well known Murrayville farmer, died at his home yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock, after several weeks of illness. The deceased was in poor health for several years but there was no cause for any alarm until a few weeks ago, when his condition became serious.

Mr. Dobson was born on the old Dobson homestead west of Murrayville, and had lived in that community all his life. He was 48 years, 2 months and 21 days old.

Surviving are his wife, who before marriage was Miss Lennie Kitter, and seven children, Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Eva Sheppard, Chester, Walter, Elta, Wayne and Thomas Dobson, the latter five residing at home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Murrayville Methodist church. Interment will be in Murrayville cemetery.

McCafland.
A. J. McCafland, several years resident at the Jacksonville Old People's Home, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The deceased was born March 15, 1842, and was the son of A. J. and Mary Howard McCafland. His former residence was Miller county, Mo. In 1866 he was married to Mary Barbee, who died in 1914. He was twenty years a member of the Christian church and was a man of sterling ideals. During the active years of his life he was a railroad engineer.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. M. Sudekum, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Agnes Wolfe, of Lincoln, Mo.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, as it is necessary to wait for the arrival of his daughters.

Art Bush and family of Winchester called in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Conklin have gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., for the winter months.

Miss Anna Duer left Tuesday for Springfield to spend a week with relatives.

Election Dissolves White Hall Community High School District—Banquet Was a Success Other White Hall News.

White Hall, Nov. 21.—The dissolution of the White Hall community proposition, the vote showing more than a hundred over the necessary two-thirds. The district was organized in the spring of 1919, and the opposition was then set in motion that brought about the result of freeing the land-owners of the proposed high school tax. Following the formation of the community district the first tax levy was made on the basis of direct tax, the bond issue of $150,000 not being voted until too late for the tax being levied the first year on the basis of retiring the bonds in twenty years. Therefore the first levy was made on the basis of a direct tax that would provide the full amount in five years, which while heavier by approximately five times the bond issue arrangement, had one advantage of avoiding interest payment. However, the opposition used the situation very effectively in having the people believe that the heavy tax would be an everlasting burden on the property of the district.

In the spring of 1920 the opposition elected a board of directors favorable to abolishing the district by legal means. The first opportunity to that end arrived Saturday, and the district was abolished a large element of the town people joining with the country people in rolling up a most decisive vote against the community high school. Even most ardent supporters in the earlier days of the community proposition came to the conclusion that the community board of education would use every technicality to delay the erection of a high school building, and reasoned that if White Hall is to have a high school within a more reasonable length of time it would be necessary for the city to build it, figuring that the non-high school tax on lands in the surrounding districts would be as great if not greater than the tax to support the community high school. With the result of Saturday's election the board of education of district No. 66, White Hall, automatically resumes charge of high school affairs, and steps will at once be taken to the end of providing a high school by the city on a basis that will equal the community proposition with a combination of school districts on which to levy the high school tax.

Notwithstanding a continuous downpour of rain that characterized last Friday evening, the oyster banquet in the First Baptist church attracted sufficient patronage to add a few dollars net to the exchequer of the Wendell Sunday school class. The feature that drew out some seventy citizens on such a night is the interest in the local historical research work that for some time has been carried on by Mr. Wendell, and his talk on White Hall history won such approval that already arrangements are being considered for a repetition of this lecture. C. Richert, the oldest business man in White Hall, stated to the audience that he had been here longer probably than any one else present, but that Mr. Wendell presented facts he had never heard before, and proposed a rising vote of thanks to the speaker. Rev. Lee Hanchett, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was likewise effusive in his reference to Mr. Wendell.

The speaker referred to the work of locating and marking Revolutionary graves in this vicinity, which challenges other communities this far west. He urged the need of better facilities for preserving and displaying historical manuscripts and relics in combination with the township library. He spoke of the connection of noted characters with the history of White Hall, naming John G. Nicolay, Stephen A. Douglas and Senator Albert G. Cummings of Iowa, and of the ups and downs of the fights against the saloon, finally their final banishment on May 1st, 1875, never to return to the open licensed saloon. He made striking references to the limitations conference, and then took up the religious and church history of the community, concluding in a most impressive and enlightening manner.

A. M. Novius, head of the committee on arrangements, stated that the event will again be held soon after Thanksgiving. He was assisted by W. F. Short, George Howard, Frank Dawdy and Frank Vandaveer.

Caritas Rebekah Lodge No. 625 will have a masquerade party Friday night, Nov. 25th at their hall on West State street. Program, music and refreshments. Everything free. All Rebekahs and friends invited.

THE LIMITATION OF ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

(By Guy L. Shaw, Member of Congress.)

As I have sat and listened to the opening sessions of the greatest and most far-reaching conference that has ever been called in the history of the nations, it has seemed to me that the dream of the world for international friendship and peace could not fail to come out of the manifest cordial, friendly intercourse of the statesmen at the Conference table.

In each was evident a desire to see, not how little he could give but how much he could contribute in behalf of his country to the lasting peace and happiness of the world.

That spirit continues. Discussion of specific points, yes. But a generous statesmanlike give-and-take pervades the consideration of all questions thus far. And even if some difference of opinion arises, the same spirit is likely to manifest itself.

You would have been proud of your President if you could have witnessed his triumphal journey to the opening session of the Conference with every inch of the way lined with admiring and well wishing patriots. You would have been proud to stand with us as he entered the Conference hall, in prolonged and enthusiastic greeting of respect to the man in whose heart and mind was born the idea of the present Conference.

We listened eagerly, but not fearfully, rather with confidence, to the President's message of welcome and it did not disappoint us. The whole Conference rose to its feet again and again during his speech, in pride and glory of our leader and his expressed sentiments. When he had finished his message he left the hall entrusting the working out of the Conference plans to the American Delegation.

The President had no sooner finished his memorable address setting forth the desires and purposes of the Conference, than Secretary of State Hughes arose and in a profoundly impressive but simple manner proposed a practical definite plan for the limitation of armament. It took our breath away. No one could have looked for such a specific suggestion at the beginning. It was a masterly stroke. From all over the world cablegrams, telegrams and letters have come to the American Delegation expressing their heart felt approval. A London paper said, "The dawn is breaking on the long night of Ireland as the soul of the British Nation bows itself in prayer for the peace of the whole world. Saturday crowned a week of miracles with the supreme miracle at Washington. Surely there is something not ourselves shaping the world's soul and leading it to light."

The spirit which permeated every utterance of the foreign diplomats as each rose in his place at the table to give expression of his approval of the plan suggested by Secretary Hughes, was a spirit of the most friendly co-operation.

The plan suggestion for reduction of naval armament, briefly stated is this. In the first place there were four general principles that were applied in making the plan:

1. That all capital-ship building programs should be abandoned.
2. That further reduction should be made thru the scrapping of old ships.
3. That in general, regard should be had for the existing naval strength of powers concerned.
4. That the capital ship tonnage should be used as the measurements of strength for navies and a proportionate allowance of auxiliary combatant prescribed.

Then Secretary Hughes proposed a definite plan for each of the three nations, Great Britain, Japan and America.

One strong note, perhaps the dominant note in Secretary Hughes' message was struck when he said, "The time has come and this Conference has been called, not for general resolutions or mutual advice but for action."

In speaking of the sacrifice of money already spent on ships, the Secretary said, "The effort to escape such sacrifices is futile. We must face them or yield our purpose." He said, "The only way to limit armaments is to limit them. There is only one adequate way out and that is to end it now."

How fraught with hope to the perfect understanding of the nations of the world it is to realize that out of the Conference is destined to come a settling of the Anglo-Japanese question which has been in evidence for nineteen years and the settling of the disputes between Japan and China.

If in this atmosphere, if in this war-weary day, men and nations cannot come together in terms of friendly discussion and relationship when we can hope that such a thing could come to pass?

I shall not go into a discussion of the points being considered by the committees of the Conference but will state briefly that England suggests doing away with all submarine warfare while America maintains that is an important part of our defense. Japan wishes to increase the proposed ratio of her naval strength beyond that which the suggested plan allows her. France explains her need of a large army and expresses her sympathetic understanding of the Japanese and Chinese problems and a cordial desire to co-operate in their solution setting forth specific suggestions to that end.

An outstanding circumstance is that England has already halted work on a certain class of ships pending the outcome of the Conference.

Altogether we have high hopes of the ultimate success of the Conference on the Limitation of Armament.

TYPICAL SCALPING

MARKET TUESDAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—It was a typical scalping market today, in the wheat trade with no big dominating factor bulging brought out selling but the buying power increased on declines. Closing quotations were steady at same as yesterday finish Dec. $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 1/4 and May $1.11 to $1.11 1/4.
Corn finished 1 to 1 1/2 up, oats off a shade to 1/4c and provisions unchanged to 1/16 higher.

At the start bulls in wheat had a high advantage owing to scantiness of offerings especially in the December delivery. Too much rain in Argentina and excess heat in Australia were reported and there was still uneasiness over drought in Kansas and elsewhere southwest. Absence of export demand, however, and a forecast of snow or other moisture for all states where dry weather has been a drawback tended to weaken the market during the middle of the session. On the other hand shorts were more disposed to cover in the late afternoon, lightness of receipts drawing attention to possibility of a squeeze in obtaining supplies for ready settlement of December contracts here. Besides, Ohio millers were said to be bidding 13 experts for Number 2 hard winter wheat which could be shipped back from Buffalo.

Good export and individual demand gave firmness to the corn market.

Oats were relatively dull after for the first time in months some cows were sold here to go south.
Buying of hard presumably against sales of cotton seed oil appeared to have considerable to do with upturns with the provision market.

Every Day Honesty

The world is sick and tired of bunk. The poor old overworked American dollar is almost down and out with a broken back trying to carry the load. Everywhere there is a song and dance about low prices. But, very often, when one looks up this low price stuff they find low value to even things up, and so no headway is made. We make no wild claims. Just come in here—into this, The Peoples, store—and see what we have and what it will cost you. We'll take a chance with 'em all on underselling and holding to quality. We give credit—remember that also.

FRANCIS HOLLAND WEMPLE

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

After finishing school, Mr. Wemple was for a time engaged in buying and shipping grain at Virden.

When, in 1877, he and his brother, Edward Wemple, established their private bank in Waverly, they continued to farm. They grazed and fed cattle, doing the work for the most part with their own hands, one of them staying in the bank and the other going out to look after the stock. This arrangement continued until Holland developed asthma, which made it impossible for him to do outside work in the winter, since which time practically all that work has fallen on his brother.

Started as it was, in a small way, their business grew slowly. Their equipment was meager and they had no vault, simply a fire and burglar-proof iron safe. Christmas eve, 1891, occurred a fire which destroyed about half the buildings on the west side of the square, in Waverly, and among them, the bank building and all in it except the safe. The latter was so hot that for days it could not be opened, but when finally, access was had to it, everything inside was intact, although some of the papers were badly scorched. Temporary quarters were found in a vacant store building and a little later, a sheet iron-covered structure, such as are common in the west, was erected to serve as a bank until a permanent building could be put up. Shortly before the fire, which destroyed their bank, the firm had had a fire which totally destroyed a number of store buildings owned by it. The inconvenience suffered by the firm as a result of this second fire coming as it did in mid-winter, was little short of hardship and men of less determination would probably have given up in discouragement. It was not so, however, with these men, then no longer young. With confidence in themselves and their town, they let contracts and erected the substantial brick buildings now occupied by the Wemple State Bank. The two-story part of the double store building occupied by the department store of Bradford, Weise & Co., and the brick store buildings occupied by Henry Logsdon and Frank Zoll. These buildings were erected by the firm of Wemple Bros. and were paid for by the two brothers, composing that firm, purely as a private enterprise. That they were of sound construction is evidenced by the fact that thirty years after their erection, there are no better or more slightly buildings in Waverly.

Until age and infirmity prevented, Mr. Wemple took a lively interest in matters political, both local and national. He served as mayor of Waverly soon after the saloons had been voted out. The large profits which could then, as now, be made by the sale of intoxicants, had tempted several of the druggists then located in Waverly to embark in the illegal sale of whiskey over the counters on a pretty large scale and in flagrant violation of the local option law. To add to the difficulty of law enforcement, public sentiment was, to some extent at least, with the law-breaking druggist and as a result it became almost as easy for the initiated to buy whiskey by the drink in Waverly as it had been in the days of open saloons. Conditions finally became so bad that it looked as if some one would have to take the odium bound to result from the prosecution of successful suits, and, although it was done at the cost of much unpopularity, Mr. Wemple, practically unaided, hunted up evidence and filed suits which ultimately resulted in the assessment of heavy fines against the proprietors of three separate drug stores and which practically put an end to the illegal sale of intoxicants by the drug stores in Waverly. Although this occurred in the 'teenties, the commotion it caused and the threats made, and the bitter feeling caused by the imposition of these fines, which were, if as remembered correctly, $200 and costs in each case, was a result that remains still in the memory.

Although Mr. Wemple was a busy man, he found time for occasional outings and traveled over more of the United States than most men of his day. He was very fond of outdoor sports, especially fishing, and had all the patience of the true angler. One of his fishing trips was to the Lake Superior region in company with the late William E. Velch, William Brown, Dr. Edward A. Tanner, and possibly one or two others. This trip and the opportunity it afforded him to become somewhat closely acquainted with these men seemed to have afforded him great satisfaction, and he often referred to it. The Hon. William Brown, and Dr. (then President) Tanner, were highly regarded by Mr. Wemple. Unquestionably his respect and admiration for Dr. Tanner led him to send his sons to Illinois college and probably had much to do with his determination to give them a chance at a better education than he had. His estimate of Mr. Brown as a man and a lawyer was correspondingly high and he often expressed the wish that his sons could be under the tutelage of such a lawyer.

The republican party never had a more consistent and ardent member than Mr. Wemple. With its principles and policies he was practically always in accord and for its leaders during and since the Civil war he had the deepest respect and admiration. Any book dealing with the history of the Civil war or with the lives of the leading men of that day, he read and re-read, with the liveliest interest. The personal memoirs of Grant, Sheridan and others he read and re-read until he literally wore the covers off the books. A little volume of Lincoln's speeches, published on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, was likewise a great favorite of his and he had read it many times. In common with many others, he regarded Lincoln as the greatest man of his time, if not the greatest man who ever lived, and not more than two or three years ago, was at Lincoln's tomb, where one could not but see that he was profoundly impressed.

While many doubtless would have called him unprogressive his financial views were fundamentally sound. He had little sympathy with and took little interest in the speculator or vendor of blue sky. In him, however, any earnest young man of good character and not afraid to work found a friend, and in an effort to help such a one he has been known to go much farther than some so-called progressive and public-spirited men. He made no claim that the statement was original with him, but frequently said that a man's best collateral is a good character and a reputation for industry and integrity. Instances are not lacking to show that along this line his belief was so strong that his theory was frequently put into practice. He seldom got far from the actualities of life and always asserted that economy and industry are the basis of any real success or accomplishment. Extravagance in private or public affairs he always deprecated. Although, as stated, originally the possessor of a fine constitution, Mr. Wemple, soon after middle life, developed asthma, which ailment was to some extent hereditary in his family. He suffered with it for years and spent many nights in a chair being unable to breathe lying down. At no time, however, did he ever suggest retiring from business or admit that he would have to quit. The few days that found him utterly unable to get to his desk were for him days of restlessness and chafing. On days when his asthma made him so short of breath that he could not walk he would ride to his office and when, as was frequently the case before the streets were oiled, the roads were impassable for a vehicle, he would have a horse saddled and would ride to his office, taking his lunch with him and staying all day.

Although hard worked and almost continually confronted with some difficult business problem, he retained to the end a remarkable equanimity and was mentally as alert and vigorous as ever. He was, in the main, even tempered, though he never failed to denounce in vigorous terms, persons or policies of which he disapproved or which were, in his opinion, legitimate subjects of comment or criticism.

Nothing is more natural than that to a boy his father should seem the most wonderful person in the world and it is unfortunate that in so many instances, disillusionment comes when the boy's vision becomes that of a man. In this particular, Mr. Wemple's sons have been singularly fortunate, for his life was such that, with the passing of years, their respect for him has increased rather than diminished.

In this sketch, which is somewhat intimate, I have probably said a good deal of Mr. Wemple which a man of his retiring nature would, in all probability, have disclaimed and this applies especially to the words with which I am about to close. There are, however, I feel, some among those who knew Mr. Wemple best, who would not call an overstatement if I say, "He was a man, take him for all in all, I shall not see his like again."

In the year 1905, a carload of Jacksonville and neighboring people journeyed over the Canadian-Pacific railway to British Columbia, Seattle and Portland. Mr. Wemple and the "O. J." man were in the party, under the guidance of Dr. A. L. Adams, and Mr. Wemple's presence was a pleasure.

FELT LIKE AN IRON BAND AROUND HEAD

This is How Lynchburg, Va., Woman Declares Her Headaches Often Affected Her.

Everybody will read with interest the statement of Miss M. E. Woodford, 1808 Filmore St., Lynchburg, Va., who says: "I don't believe anybody ever suffered from headaches like I did. The pains felt like an iron band was being drawn around my head and my temples would throb until I was driven almost distracted. I shudder when I think of those awful headaches. I had no appetite either."

"I owe Tanlac an everlasting debt of gratitude for entirely ridding me of those terrible headaches. My stomach has been toned up too, and everything I eat agrees with me now. Tanlac certainly brought me health and happiness."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by J. F. Shreve, druggist, and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Where Are You Going This Winter?

Why don't you take a trip to that charmed land of out of doors and varied attractions—California?

While California performs no magic, it does rest the weary and refresh the weak. One can be out in the open air and glorious sunshine amongst the fruits and flowers beside the blue Pacific every day—his whole system vitalized and energized, filled with what they call "pep." There's no end of outdoor recreation and pastime possibilities in California.

Instead of being a hardship, the ride is a leisurely, care-free one, if you go via the Burlington. A continuous moving picture of inspiring wonders—farms, factories, interesting towns, fascinating cities, gorges, canyons, rivers, lakes, forests and world-renowned mountains—through Denver (the Paris of America), Colorado Springs (the City of Sunshine), the Pike's Peak region, Pueblo (the Pittsburgh of the West), the Royal Gorge (the most challenging canyon through which a railroad runs), Scenic Colorado, Salt Lake City (the Capital of the Mormons), Great Salt Lake (the mysterious American Dead Sea) and the ninety-mile-long gorge of the Feather River Canyon through the beautiful Sierra Nevada range. Convenient connection at Salt Lake for southern California points.

If you think you can't afford it, analyze the situation and you will change your mind. It costs money to remain at home. Taking this, the delights, comfort and benefits of the trip into consideration, how can you afford not to go? There are comparatively inexpensive hotels, boarding houses and eating places, as well as the palatial kind we hear so much about.

Ask me about the cost of getting there. Reduced round trip tickets, carrying long return limits, liberal stop-over and diverse-route privileges are now on sale.
